

Curriculum Overview - History

The History department are committed to the teaching of history in an engaging and interesting way within the framework of the National Curriculum. We aim to provide pupils with the desire to continue their study of history in their future education and to generate a lifelong interest in the subject by providing an enriching, challenging and relevant curriculum. As a department we believe that the study of history is important on a number of levels.

